Domaine du Séminaire

Côtes-du-Rhône Rouge

ABOUT THE ESTATE

- Domaine du Séminaire lies tucked into the hills of Valréas, an idyllic property that offers a snapshot of a long-ago time.
- The 100 hectares are planted to olive and oak trees, lavender, and forest as well as vine, making this a hot-spot of biodiversity.
- In the foothills of the Alps, this terroir represents the northern reaches of where Grenache can successfully ripen, walking the tightrope between full ripeness and bright acids.
- Hervé and Mathilde Pouizin are the fourth generation to tend these vines, and keep viticulture and vinification traditional. Their main "modernization" has been to convert all the vineyards to organic farming.
- It's a labor of love to make these Côtes-du-Rhônes and they are exceptional examples of what this striking terroir can bring.
