Château des Tours

Domaine des Tours Vin de Pays de Vaucluse Blanc

ABOUT THE ESTATE

- Owned by the Reynaud family since 1935, Château des Tours was the home estate of Château Rayas' renowned winemaker, Emmanuel Reynaud, and is now run by his sons, Louis Damien and Benoît.
- Emmanuel ran the estate from 1989 until his passing in 2025, and, true to his nature as a farmer, grew olives and grains alongside grapes.
- The vineyards are tended with the same organic methods used in all of the Reynaud's properties, horse-plowed, and deeply reverent of the old-vine Grenache grown here.
- Hand-harvested grapes from 40 hectares of vineyards see whole-cluster fermentation and native yeasts.
- Entirely free from modern interventions, the wines of Château des Tours are always some of the most coveted in the Rhône.

VINEYARDS & VITICULTURE
The vineyards are tended with organic methods, manually plowed, harvested much later than other producers. The vines for Clariette, planted in 1982, are harvested from the sandy bottom of the slope, which have richer soils than the Côtes-du-Rhône.

HARVEST & VINIFICATION
During vinification, each varietal of every vineyard is fermented separately in very old oak casks, with assemblage taking place in enamel-lined tanks before bottling. Fermentation is allowed to begin naturally with no inoculation in vats. Malolactic fermentation is completed, then the wine ages for 8-9 months.
